Enhancing Democratic Governance and Accountability through Gender Sensitive Engagement of Local Communities (ENGAGE)

Project Description	This project aims to support the Thai government in establishing anti-corruption measures and standards of practice for sub-national governments to increase transparency and accountability through voluntarism and a participatory approach. The project is part of the national effort to support Thailand's democratic governance and its decentralization policy by strengthening the capacity of government to implement anti-corruption initiatives by involving the public in monitoring the government. This includes promoting rights to information and rights to participation in local governance among marginalized groups, including women, the poor and the vulnerable.
Project Document	This project falls under Outcome 3 of the Country Programme Action Plan (CPAP 2007 – 2011) agreed between UNDP and the Royal Thai Government i.e. policies, frameworks and measures in place to promote transparency and accountability at the sub-national level .
